WHY THIS SHOW MATTERS

|------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Highest-Intent Audience      | Every attendee is actively planning a wedding and has self-selected as a buyer. These are couples with dates, budgets, and decisions to make — not passive scrollers. |
| Live Brand Experience        | Couples who meet you in person form stronger brand trust than any digital ad. A polished exhibit with a live demo converts at a higher rate than any online campaign. |
| Same-Day Closings            | Couples in buying mode who book on the spot eliminate follow-up fatigue. The show special creates urgency that drives same-day decisions.                             |
| Lead List as Long-Term Asset | November show attendees are mostly planning spring/summer weddings — your peak season. 50+ names collected can generate bookings through March 2027.                  |
| Vendor Network               | One DJ, florist, or planner partnership built on the show floor can be worth 5–10 referral bookings per year, compounding over time.                                  |

THE SHOW SPECIAL

|               |                                                                                                                                                       |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Offer Name    | Black Tie Show Special                                                                                                                                |
| Discount      | $150 off any booked package                                                                                                                          |
| Bonus         | Free Instant Prints upgrade — a $249 value                                                                                                           |
| Total Savings | $399 in combined savings                                                                                                                             |
| Availability  | Book same day at the show ONLY — offer expires at close of show                                                                                       |
| Why It Works  | Anchors value at $399 · Creates same-day urgency · Instant Prints hook opens add-on upsell conversation · Signed contract = date secured on calendar |

| SUBJECT | Our Georgia Bridal Show special is officially here |

Hi [First Name],

We promised something special for couples at the Georgia Bridal & Wedding Show — and we're ready to share it.

Here's what we're offering exclusively to couples who book at the show on November 1st:

- $150 off any Black Tie Booth package
- A complimentary Instant Prints upgrade (a $249 value)
- Your wedding date secured on the spot

That's $399 in total savings — and this offer is only available if you book the same day at the show.

We know that decisions like this don't always feel urgent. But the couples who book at the show leave with peace of mind and savings in their pocket.

Come find us on November 1st and let's make it official.

| SUBJECT | Tomorrow's the day — here's everything you need to know |

Hi [First Name],

Tomorrow is the Georgia Bridal & Wedding Show — and we are ready.

A quick reminder of everything waiting for you at the Black Tie Booth exhibit:

- Live demos of our booth experiences
- Honest answers to all your questions
- $150 off any package + Free Instant Prints if you book at the show
- A team that genuinely loves what they do

Our show special expires when the day ends. If you've been thinking about booking with us, tomorrow is the best time to do it.

Hi [First Name],

It was such a pleasure meeting you at the Georgia Bridal & Wedding Show yesterday. Thank you for stopping by our booth.

I wanted to follow up personally and give you a chance to ask any questions that came up after the show, or simply to keep the conversation going as you plan your big day.

A few things that might be helpful:

- Our full experience menu and pricing: [link to packages page]
- Real weddings and client photos: [link to gallery or Instagram]
- Ready to chat one-on-one: [link to contact or booking form]

Our show special has ended, but I'd love to put together something that works for your date and vision. Just reply to this email — there's no pressure, only excitement about the possibility of being part of your wedding.

Congratulations again on your engagement. Wishing you all the joy in the world as you plan.

Warmly,
The Black Tie Booth Team
